

SANGIRO AND ALL COMMERCIALY KILLED CHICKENS ARE HARAAM

QUESTION

What is the Shariah status of SANGIRO chickens? I wrote to them seeking information. I posed a number of questions regarding their slaughtering process. They refused to answer my questions. Rather, they asked me for my 'credentials' and referred me to SANHA. I informed them that I do not trust SANHA, but they obstinately refuse to divulge any information regarding their slaughtering and packing process. Please guide us.

ANSWER

SANGIRO and all commercially killed and processed chickens are HARAAM MAITAH (CARRION).

The reason for refusing to divulge information is quite obvious. There is no riddle underlying the refusal. All of these chicken-killing and chicken-torturing facilities have been instructed by SANHA, the Maitah-Halaalizer, to refuse any queries and not to divulge any information.

Your credentials are that you are a Muslim who has the right to know what you will be consuming or what you intend to consume. This is your Shar'i right as well as your constitutional right. Companies are not permitted to conceal ingredients and the process of production which is directly related to consumption as is the case of chickens and meat.

These chicken-killing facilities have much to conceal of their horrendous, brutal killing methods, hence concealment is quite understandable though unlawful and unacceptable.

IT IS WAAJIB TO ABSTAIN FROM ALL COMMERCIALY KILLED AND PROCESSED CHICKENS. NEVER BE FOOLED AND BAMBOOZLED BY THE CONFOUNDED HARAAM 'HALAAL' CERTIFICATES WITH WHICH THE CARRION HALAALIZERS CAMOFLAUGE THEIR HALAALIZED DISEASED CARRION CHICKENS AND CARRION CHICKEN PRODUCTS.

19 Rabiul Awwal 1437 (31 December 2015)