Polish President Andrzej Duda has vowed to oppose the kind of “social experiments” performed on children in some western countries that have led to the erosion of the traditional family unit.

Speaking during a campaign rally in the town of Poronin before elections on June 28, Duda asserted that he would continue to pursue pro-family policies.

“These were policies of dignity for Poles and Poland — a dignified fight for Polish interests anywhere, where the truth about those interests had to be spoken. I never feared doing that,” he said.

Same-sex marriage, which is opposed by the majority of the population, is banned in the Polish constitution, and Duda emphasized his concern over how the LGBT movement has grown in other countries as a political power grab, not a civil rights cause.

“They are trying to persuade us that LGBT is a category of people, but it’s an ideology,” he said.

Adding that social benefits to encourage strong families would be maintained, Duda also vowed to defend children from "social experiments," which presumably refers to the sexualization of children at a young age.

"Until I have no strength left, I promise you, I will always protect our family, our traditional family in accordance with our Polish model. I will not permit the introduction of experiments, especially if our children were to be used in these experiments. I do not permit that," said the president.

OUR COMMENT

Muslims, i.e. ordinary Muslims – the layman, should take cognizance of the truths stated by the non-Muslims president.

Every word of truth and wisdom stated by non-Muslims, is actually the lost treasure of Muslims

We say 'ordinary Muslims' only. We do not direct this naseehat to molvis and sheiks. The entire gamut of this miserable bootlickers and munaafiqs are the agents of Iblees. Under the "Canopy of the Sky" there is today no viler and no more contemptible specimens of vermin than these human Shayaateen who use the Qur'aan and Hadith for the acquisition of cents, dollars and bestial gratification.
