

SANHA'S 'HALAAL' PORK PIES DEBACLE

Written by Administrator
Tuesday, 28 July 2015 12:08 -

---

SANHA'S 'HALAAL' PORK PIES DEBACLE – SWEEPING THE FACTS UNDER THE CARPET

Recently it was brought to the notice of the Muslim community that some Pick 'n Pay stores were fraudulently using SANHA's 'halaal' logo to advertise their haraam pies. The glaring truth of this fraud constrained SANHA to sheepishly whisper:

“Selected Pick 'n Pay stores have fraudulently used the SANHA Halaal Logo on their recent 'Pie Promo'. SANHA does not certify any PnP pies/ bake-offs.”

The gravity of the fraud cannot be so easily fobbed off by issuing a stupid statement which in no way whatsoever appeases concerned Muslims, nor does it explain the circumstances which allowed the perpetration of the fraud on the basis of which many Muslims must surely have consumed the haraam, carrion pies believed to have been certified by SANHA. One concerned Muslims brother wrote to SANHA:

“How does PnP and other people get to use the SANHA logo? Do they go out and make their own or have their own printed, or is this given to them ready printed from SANHA with batch numbers for tracking purposes?”

Who supervises the PnP stores in house to see that they stick the labels into proper items? How does SANHA enforce this in all PnP”, or does SANHA leave it to the individual stores to stick on and supervise?”

I am sure that the above questions can be answered as it only is asking questions about the procedure followed. I am not a journalist nor am I an Aalim. I am a Muslim who is trying to clear my thoughts on this issue, then decide whether to abstain or not.”

SANHA'S 'HALAAL' PORK PIES DEBACLE

Written by Administrator
Tuesday, 28 July 2015 12:08 -

---

Skirting the questions posed, SANHA mumbled some vague/ambiguous response. Commenting on the ducking and diving attitude of SANHA, the Brother states:

"I have given up asking my questions to SANHA regarding this incident. Surely nobody leaves their cheque book laying around in the hands of strangers without taking serious action if it is misused.....so is the halaal stamp. But here it is being forgive."

Another Brother asks: "Why is SANHA hiding or keeping this apology so secretive when this matter affects Muslims?"

The need for being secretive is constrained by the rotten carrion stench which would be released should the truth be revealed. The whole haraam carrion 'halaal' certificate fraudulent business reeks of haraam RIJS (filth), hence SANHA deems it imperative to sweep the facts of truth under the carpet. Fobbing off this grave issue only further confirms the illegitimacy of these haraam carrion halaalizers whose lives are spent in haraam shenanigans to sustain their haraam 'halaal' certificate industry.

The irrefutable facts of the carrion saga are:

- SANHA's carrion logo was fraudulently used to advertise haraam pies as 'halaal'.
- SANHA was stupidly unaware of the fraud.
- The fraud was discovered by some consumers.
- How many Muslims have devoured the haram pies? Allah Ta'ala Alone knows.
- The repeated misuse of SANHA's logo which had been used to advertise even PORK, has led to Muslims devouring even PORK.
- SANHA's much vaunted supervision is a myth.
- The kuffaar stores are fully in control of the logos, stickers, and whatever goes with the marketing of the halaalized carrion certified as 'halaal' by SANHA and its sister carrion-halaalizing entities.
- In a desperate bid to save its rotten, carrion image, SANHA has no alternative but to hide the facts.

SANHA'S 'HALAAL' PORK PIES DEBACLE

Written by Administrator
Tuesday, 28 July 2015 12:08 -

---

- This carrion incident, like all other haraam carrion debacles caused by the halaalization of kuffaar carrion products, sees rotten egg all over the face of SANHA.

Muslim should understand that they are not supposed to be like beasts which gratify their emotional instincts in whatever way is available to them. The Muslim is not supposed to devour just any rot advertised as 'halaal' food. The Akhlaaq (moral attributes of excellence) of Muslims are completely destroyed by the consumption of carrion. Imaan is corroded and eroded drastically by constant consumption of the rotten haraam carrion chickens and other meat products which SANHA halaalizes for the sake of the haraam boodle. While SANHA is concerned with the boodle, Muslims are supposed to be concerned with the development of their Imaan and Akhlaaq-e-Hamedah (attributes of moral excellence.).

The vital importance of halaal food for the development and safety of Imaan is well borne out by the Qur'aanic command: “O Rusul (Messengers): “Eat Tayyibaat (Halaal and Wholesome food), and practise virtuous deeds.” This aayat illustrates the absolute importance of consuming pure and halaal foods. Such food is a prerequisite for the development of Taqwa. It was a requisite for even the missions of the Ambiya (alayhimus salaam), hence Allah's command to them to be meticulous in the food they consume. The halaalized muck and junk which SANHA extolls in its satanic magazine in total conflict with the Qur'aan and Ahaadith, destroy both physical health and the spirituality of the Mu'min.

11 Shawwaal 1436 – 28 July 2015