HARAAM CHICKENS AND DECEPTIVE APPEARANCES

Regarding commercially killed chickens, a Brother comments as follows:

Assalaamu'alaykum Respected Moulana

Alhamdulillah I read the article on the chicken situation at a certain abbatoir.

There are many chicken abatoirs that are not particular when it comes to these chickens being slaughtered correctly. The meaning of slaughtered correctly is that the slaughtering is done according to SHARIAH and not according to our non-islamic government laws and regulations.

Many of the time the public is unaware and do not make the necessary investigations unfortunately but we make dua Allah Ta'ala guides us all.

I have been fortunate to visit the Salejee's chicken farm based in Cato Ridge myself and have seen with my own eyes the chicken abbatoir and how the conveyor belt which is designed to hold chickens upside and dunked into water and then stunned. Now for a person who has just met the owner will assume everything is all Shariah compliant as he may be dressed in Kurta and have a beard, but what goes on behind the closed doors of the abbatoir is totally incorrect.

OUR COMMENT

Do not be deceived by the assurances of people on the basis of their outward appearance. Islamic dress and appearance, are no longer guide lines for the acquisition of the Truth. When the objective is money – the dunya – then the Deen is swept under the carpet.

The Shariah today is a hobby or a past-time activity to be discarded or misinterpreted to comply with nafsani objectives and nafsani politics.

ABSTAIN FROM ALL COMMERCIALY KILLED CHICKENS UNLESS YOU HAVE ASCERTAINED THAT THE CHICKENS ARE SLAUGHTERED 100% IN CONFORMITY WITH THE REQUISITES OF THE SHARIAH.

Do not be deceived by the haraam interpretations of today's muftis who claim that despite all the haraam steps in the killing process – despite the whole slaughtering system being HARAAM – the chickens are still halaal. This interpretation is adorned whispering of shaitaan who urinates such haraam filth into the brains of the misguided muftis who have worldly and nafsani objectives to pursue, hence they are adept in the art of sweeping the Shariah under the carpet with their satanic interpretations.
