Assalamua Alaikum respected Mufti

I am a pharmacist by profession and would like to seek your verdict on the following.

The government is planning a massive measles immunisation drive in June 2017 where 650000 children will be immunised against measles.

Upon inspecting the package insert of this vaccine it is found to contain the active ingredient which is live measles vaccine plus preservatives plus gelatin in situ.

I called the manufacturer of the product and spoke to the production office and Linda from Biovac confirmed with me that the source of the Gelatin used for their product is of Pig origin (Porcine).

Kindly advise whether Muslim parents should consent to have their children immunised with
