THE HARAAM SHENANIGANS OF AMAANAT INVESTMENTS

QUESTION ONE

I have invested considerably in the company called Amaanat Investments. Very perturbing and damning information has now been published by someone closely related to Amaanat Investments. See details in the attached exposure. I had invested on the basis of being advised by a senior Aalim. Now I am extremely worried about the income I had received from Amaanat. The profit I had received from them over the years, is it halaal, haraam or mushtabah? If haraam, what should I do according to the Shariah?

ANSWER

Over the years, many people have referred to us regarding investing with this shaitaani company. We had always advised them NOT to invest in this company, nor in any other so-called 'islamic' financial institution such as Albaraka Bank, etc.

All these institutions are appendages of Shaitaan. They deal in riba and blatantly faasid and baatil Uqood (business contracts). With massive self-deception and with nafsaani design do they justify their faasid, baatil, haraam Ibleesi dealings seeking support of the liberal, gone astray, Mufti Taqi who has sold his soul to the kuffaar capitalist bankers who pay tens of thousands of dollars for Fatwas of Jawaaz, i.e. for stupid, haraam devilish fatwas to licence their Riba products.

Brother, the income you have earned from this Ibleesi company is HARAAM. The solution is to contribute it to Sadqah without making intention of Thawaab. Then, you will, Insha-Allah, gain Thawaab for having submitted to the Shariah.

QUESTION TWO

Mr.Yusuf Kajee states in his letter of exposure:

"The effort MS Omar is putting to blow this out of proportion can only be seen to earn fees from Amanat, from what I've learnt from others and we ask questions: MS Omar has earned R12 million in fees in the last 5 years. I hope for his safety, he has declared his income on financial records with SARS."

Please comment on this revelation.

ANSWER

Hadhrat Yahya Bin Muaaz (Rahmatullah alayh) who was among the very senior and illustrious Auliya of the initial noble era of Islam, as well as others have said:

"Whoever is perfidious (treacherous) to Allah Ta'ala in secret, Allah will rip off his veil (with which he conceals his haraam) in public."

If this information is true, then the least we can comment is that we as well as the Muslim community are flabbergasted and dumbfounded at the revelation of the R12 million fees for an attorney in 5 years for merely scanning through some documents and proffering ghutha advice which merely forces the haraam company to sink further into its cauldron of haraam and najaasat.

The type of fees mentioned here also come within the purview of Riba – Riba which drives a Muslim into the pit of shaitaani insanity described by the Qur'aan as Takhabbutush Shaitaan. For those who indulge in Riba, Allah Ta'ala states in the Qur'aan Majeed:

"Those who devour riba do not stand except as one who is (driven to insanity) by the TOUCH OF SHAITAAN." That is because they say that trade is like riba."

While the villains – the so-called 'islamic' financial institutions – who halaalize RIBA on the basis of stupid fatwas disgorged by the likes of Mufti Taqi, do not declare with temerity that their products are stinking with riba, they nevertheless, do understand deep down their hearts, i.e. if there is still some flicker of Imaan – that their dealings are massive shaitaani deceptions halaalized on the basis of scrap fatwas issued by such ulama-e-soo' who fit snugly into the pockets of the western kuffaar capitalist bankers.

Insha-Allah, Allah Ta'ala will further expose all the villains associated with the haraam shenanigans of Amaanat Investments.

"Those who deceive Muslims, Allah will disgrace them."
(Hadhrat Umar Bin Khattaab)
