

STRIKING BAATIL

"In reality, We (Allah) strike baatil (falsehood) with the Haq. It then smashes out the brains of baatil. And, lo, it (baatil) suddenly disappears."
(Qur'aan)

Al-Haq

11 Rajab 1446 – 11 January 2025

THE BAND OF HAQ

"There will ever remain a band from my Ummah fighting on the Haq until the Day of Qiyaamah. Those who oppose them and those who do not aid them, will not be able to harm them."
(Hadith)

GAZZAH WILL HAUNT ALL OF THESE SAVAGE MURDERERS

James Woods, who celebrated Gaza genocide, cries on TV for losing house in fire | Janta Ka Reporter 10-01-2025

The U.S. is in the grip of yet another natural disaster, as multiple wildfires kill at least five people and destroy tens of thousands of properties in and around Los Angeles. According to the latest report, the fire was closing in on several famous Hollywood landmarks, including Hollywood Walk of Fame, the Hollywood Sign, and Hollywood Bowl. A fire chief has said that the Hollywood Hills blaze was rapidly expanding, with zero chance of containing it.

The disaster began on Tuesday afternoon, when a powerful windstorm fanned the flames of a fire in the scenic Pacific Palisades neighborhood before quickly forcing thousands to flee. Close to 2,000 structures, including homes, have been completely destroyed in the fire. Fires have also burned an area of 28,000 acres of land, and more than 137,000 people have had to evacuate themselves to safety. Videos of this devastation are simply stunning. I have uploaded some of them on my Telegram channel. You can watch them here. Details are on the screen. Now Canada has also sent its firefighters to douse these flames using helicopters.

Several Hollywood A-listers, including Paris Hilton and actor James Woods, have lost their homes to these fires. James Woods, in particular, who famously produced Oppenheimer, was seen breaking down on CNN while recounting his horror. I'm 77 years old, man. I can't walk up these hills. It's like Mount Everest there. It's pretty steep. I posted this on X. But Sarah was on with her eight-year-old niece last night. She came out. I'm sorry. One day, you're swimming in the pool. And the next day, it's all gone. But she came out with her little Yeti piggy bank. For us to rebuild our house. Oh, my gosh. James Woods, we all hope that you will be able to rebuild your house, maybe starting with that little Yeti piggy bank. And we're just glad that you're OK and your wife is OK. I'm sorry. I'm guilty. Yeah, no. I mean, this is real and it's raw. I thought I would be stronger than this.

You know what? Strength is not measured by whether you hold in crying or not. Strength is what you are doing now and helping your neighbors and shining a light on the great, amazing work of all those firefighters and emergency crews out there. You have so much strength and we appreciate you coming on to reflect what so many others, just like you, are experiencing in that raw emotion right now.

We wish you the best, you and your wife, as you rebuild your lives. So many people are doing that right now and trying to process what's going on. So, James, and also keep us posted on your 94 year old neighbor and everything going there.

We're going to continue to talk and we wish you the best. He's OK. He's OK. They found him. He's in the hospital. He's OK. Yeah. I just worry. If anybody knows where Robert Trinkteller is, you know, call me. Let me know. All right. That's an important message.

And also there's this this app that's really important. He's, however, not receiving much sympathy from social media users who are calling it karma. That's because James Woods has been routinely celebrating the genocide of Palestinians by Israeli terrorists. And I'm not making it up. In one of his tweets posted in October 2023, in the immediate aftermath of the 7th of October attacks, he had written, and I quote, No ceasefire, no compromise, no forgiveness. Hashtag kill them all. End of quote. And he didn't stop here. In another tweet posted in the same month, he had written, and I quote, Bomb the savages who did this back to the Stone Age. There are no gray areas. Kill them all. Every Hamas savage and every Hamas supporter on earth. Bury them with the entrails of pigs. End of quote. As expected, social media users, cutting across their political and religious ideologies, are now mocking the Zionist for his genocidal tweets.

One wrote, and I quote, We are loving your lost genocide supporter. Karma is a bitch. No ceasefire.

He said kill them all. He said, end of quote. Another user wrote, and I quote, No ceasefire, no compromise, no forgiveness. You reap what you sow. This is karma, James. You are experiencing the 0.01% of what people of Palestine are experiencing. You mock them. You dehumanize them. And the universe is getting back at you. The universe hears and sees everything. End of quote. Another user reminded Hollywood fans to remember who the producers of some of these blockbusters are.

This user wrote, and I quote, Always pay attention to who is producing the films you watch and whether they hold genocidal, psychotic views. James Wood, executive producer of Oppenheimer, pro-genocide, pro-ethnic cleansing, pro-war crimes. His house has just burned down. End of quote.

Social media platforms are flooded with such posts that are mocking James Woods for being hit by karma. Personally, I don't believe in celebrating even when my worst enemies suffer tragedies. But the goings on in Gaza have been my red line. I have absolutely zero sympathy for any genocide enablers who celebrated the Gaza Holocaust. As for the rest of the victims of these fires, my heart goes out to them. I pray that these fires are contained at the earliest and they are able to lead a normal life once again. That's it from me.
