BOLIVIA CUTS TIES WITH ISRAEL; OTHER
LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES RECALL; ENVOYS

Bolivia has cut official ties with Israel over the war in Gaza as two other Latin American countries recalled their ambassadors in Tel Aviv for consultations.

Bolivia “decided to break diplomatic relations with the Israeli state in repudiation and condemnation of the aggressive and disproportionate Israeli military offensive taking place in the Gaza Strip,” Deputy Foreign Minister Freddy Mamani said at a press conference on Tuesday night.

Minister of the Presidency Maria Nela Prada also announced the country would send humanitarian aid to Gaza.

“We demand an end to the attacks” in the Gaza Strip “which have so far caused thousands of civilian deaths and the forced displacement of Palestinians,” she said at the same press conference.

Neighbours Colombia and Chile also recalled their ambassadors for consultations condemning the deaths of civilians in Gaza and calling for a ceasefire.

Historically, Latin America's left-leaning countries have sympathised with the Palestinian cause, while the more right-wing countries have tended to follow the lead of the United States.

Writing on social media site X, Chilean President Gabriel Boric accused Israel of "unacceptable violations of International Humanitarian Law" and following a policy of "collective punishment" of the people of Gaza, as he announced the recall of Ambassador Jorge Carvajal.

Chile has the largest, and one of the oldest, Palestinian communities outside the Arab world.

Also writing on X, Colombian President Gustavo Petro called the attacks a "massacre of the Palestinian people".

While some non-Muslim countries are actively supporting the Palestinian Muslims, not a single one of the more than 50 so-called 'Muslim' countries has made any move to sever ties with Israel. That is because all the regimes in sway in Muslim countries are munaafiqeen and kuffaar – such kuffaar who excel in disgraceful bootlicking of America.

Even Turkey with its huge arsenal of weaponry, army, navy and airforce, besides making some feeble noises, behaves like a toothless dog.

The action instituted by Bolivia and others in fact highlights the nifaaq and cowardice of all the Muslim countries who are silently spectating the brutal ongoing massacring of the Palestinian Muslims.

The Qur'aan is the eternal Truth. It is the Kalaam of Allah Ta'ala Who says:

"There is no help except from Allah, The Mighty."

"If He abandons you, then who is there to help you besides Him?"
